Uponor PEX-a Now Available at F.W. Webb

You asked! And we answered! We are excited to announce that we have added Uponor PEX-a piping and fittings to our plumbing and heating product lineup. PEX-a is a flexible plastic tubing used for commercial and residential potable water, hydronic heating, radiant cooling and heating, fire protection and snow and ice melting applications. Backed by over 50 years of proven performance, Uponor PEX-a is the leading choice among contractors today.

Uponor Pex-a products, AquaPEX® pipe, their unique ProPEX® connection method, transports water through heating and plumbing systems. Its innovative design helps eliminate water hammer and also dampens rushing water noise. PEX-a tubing embedded in the slab or under the floor can also circulate warm or cool water in radiant systems. Outside, it can be used under concrete and asphalt for snow and ice melting systems. In addition, Uponor PEX-a can be used for hydronic piping, pre-insulated pipe and fire sprinkler systems.

PEX-a Advantages:

- Unlike copper and CPVC systems, PEX resists corrosion, pitting and scaling
- Expands up to three times its original diameter, making it the most freeze-resistant piping available
- Offers fewer connections and potential leak points for greater installation efficiency, water conservation and more affordable material costs
- Available in sizes up to 3” for potable applications and 4” for closed-loop hydronic applications
